

Speaker Info Kit

Riley Lane

CHANNELLER | KEYNOTE SPEAKER

The Lines of Creativity

In this talk Riley discusses, how Weird Al once said his song “Albuquerque” as a joke because his record label didn’t want long songs. It’s an anthem of creative freedom and shifting industry expectations. “Albuquerque” is a chaotic, rebellious, and hilarious journey that symbolizes creative nonconformity, the randomness of life, and the power of owning your weirdness.

Ideal For:

- Creatives, personal brands, and visionary entrepreneurs
- Founders tired of fitting into outdated industry norms
- Artists and leaders ready to own their originality
- Coaches and speakers

Why?

- Creative conformity does not leads to forgettable brands
- Fear of being “too much,” “too weird,” or “too bold”
- Playing small to avoid rejection or criticism
- Avoiding Carbon copy creativity

Key Speaking Pillars

01

1. Creative Rebellion Is a Strategy, Not a Phase

Key takeaway: Playing it safe is more dangerous than breaking the rules.

02

Your Weirdness Is Your Brand

Key takeaway: What makes you “too much” is usually your most magnetic asset.

03

Reject the Format. Caim Your Vision.

Key takeaway: Innovation doesn’t come from fitting in, it comes from trusting your originality.

04

The Cult Classic Effect: How to Build Movements, Not Just Moments

Key takeaway: When you own your identity and trust yourself fully, you don’t just attract opportunities, you start a movement.

Hack Your Intuition for Better Decision Making

02

In this talk, Riley discusses how over-analysis is the hidden killer of innovation and how your greatest ideas are waiting on the other side of self-trust. She unpacks why high-performers get stuck in perfection loops, miss intuitive downloads, and delay their legacy-level work. Riley teaches how to decode your inner wisdom, move faster on creative nudges. This is about activating intuitive leadership so you can finally execute the ideas that are meant for you and your social impact.

Ideal For:

- Executives, creatives, entrepreneurs, and corporate leaders who struggle to move on ideas quickly
- High-performers who are brilliant but burnt out from relying solely on logic
- Innovation-focused teams seeking a new edge in decision-making and leadership
- Visionaries with big ideas, but low trust in their timing or gut instincts

Why?

- Overthinking is killing innovation.
- Intuition is speed. Speed is success.
- Great ideas have an expiry date.
- With AI increase our higher consciousness abilities + inner decision making, success instinct needs to increase
- Leaders don't need more information they need deeper self trust

Key Speaking Pillars

01

1. What is Intuition and what is it Not.

Demystifying intuition - what is really is. Learn how to decode intuition so you're following the wisdom.

02

Activating a Deeper Intuition

Distinguish fear v's intuitive. Process for deepening the trust in your inner voice

03

Overthinking ≠ Intelligence

Unpacking the cost of analysis paralysis, perfectionism, and delayed decision-making in high performers.

04

How to use intuition and what for

Use intuitive in creative projects and channeling your Albuquerque. (a topic for part 2)

SPEAKING TESTIMONIALS

Don't Just Take My Word For It...

Hey Riley, Thank you so much for introducing me on stage at my event. You hit all of the marks perfectly and I was told by multiple people that they loved your energy, the way you spoke and how you opened the day. Thank you so much for bringing all of you for the day. You're an incredible speaker!

CLAUDIA COMPTON

MINDSET COACH, PSYCHIC AND RETREAT FACILITATOR

THE PSYCHIC EVENT